1 Introduction

Welcome and thank you for purchasing Sign Builder DE (Desktop Edition).

Sign Builder DE is a software tool designed to produce custom signs. It can build professional quality signs for practically any situation. Sign Builder DE offers the flexibility to create ANSI, ISO, OSHA and other general-purpose signs. With an extensive library consisting of over 6000 unique high quality symbols, pictograms and signal word headers, nearly any sign you can imagine can be created using the Sign Builder DE software. Since it utilizes high quality vector graphics, signs built with Sign Builder DE will not distort and will not lose image quality as size is increased. Sign sizing and printing is flexible and is constrained only by the users' printing capability.

This manual is provided to help you get started and offers a complete reference of the software capabilities and resources. In addition to the basics, discussed are different standards and regulations that most people should observe when creating safety signage. Understanding these standards will better assist you in creating effective compliant safety signs.

2 Installation and Setup

This chapter covers initial requirements and software installation necessary prior to using Sign Builder DE. It presents the following topics:

- System Requirements
- Installation
- Running for the First Time
- Registration

2.1 System Requirements

Sign Builder DE is a Windows™ application with very modest system requirements as follows:

- A computer running Windows NT, 2000, XP, Vista or later.
- 100 megabytes of hard drive space.
- A printer for sign output.

2.2 Installation

To install Sign Builder DE on your computer, you must first run the Sign Builder DE installation utility SignBuilderDE_Installer.exe provided to you at time of purchase. Double-click on the installer and follow the instructions presented in the dialogs. When the installation utility completes, Sign Builder DE will be installed on your computer.

2.3 Running for The First Time

To run Sign Builder DE, use the Windows Start menu, navigate to Programs > Sign Builder Desktop Edition and click on Sign Builder.

Running Sign Builder DE

By default, the Sign Builder DE software behaves as an evaluation copy and will function with limited capabilities until registered.

2.4 Registration

To unlock the full capabilities of Sign Builder DE, the software must be registered. A proper registration license is provided to you with your purchase. Register by selecting Tools > Register Sign Builder at the main window pulldown menu. This will open the Safety Sign Builder Registration Window where you can enter your name and license key.

Registration Window

A unique license key is required for each installed instance of Sign Builder DE. Please review the Sign Builder DE licensing information (Appendix E) for details. After entering the registration information, click OK and restart the program. You are now ready to use Sign Builder to its full potential.

3 Your First Sign

NOTE: This section provides a quick refresher or a brief reference of how to build a sign using Sign Builder DE. Refer to Section 4 for in-depth description of software functions.

Building a sign using Sign Builder DE is very easy and the result is always of the highest quality. To get an idea of what is involved, follow the illustrated instructions below to build your first sign using Sign Builder DE.

3.1 Sign Message

Each sign may contain a message that is communicated to the observer. Let's assume that your first sign needs to communicate the message "Electrical Hazard". Type the message in the Message area as shown below and click on the  Preview Sign button. This displays the Preview pane where the sign would be displayed. As you can see, the message is displayed as large as possible and centered within the available space.

Add Sign Message

3.2 Sign Header

In order to emphasize the importance of the message, most safety signs use a sign header (also known as signal word) to indicate a hazard level. In the case of your first sign, the hazard level can best be described as "Danger". To include an appropriate header, click on the  Edit Sign button to exit the preview pane and return to the edit window. From the Header area select "DANGER (ANSI, EN)". You will see a red Danger header displayed to the right. Appendix B provides a complete reference of available headers.

Add Sign Header

To preview the updated sign, click on the  Preview Sign button. You'll now notice that the sign includes the selected header with the message resized and repositioned to accommodate the changes.

3.3 Sign Pictogram

To further improve the effectiveness of our sign, it is appropriate to add a pictogram that would provide visual clues to the danger associated with Electrical Hazard. Click on the  Edit Sign button to exit the preview pane and return to the edit window. From the Pictogram area click on the  Select Left/Top Pictogram From Library button to open the Pictogram Browser window. Using the Pictogram Browser, select the ELECTRICAL HAZARDS library and the Electrical Hazards - 037 pictogram as shown below. Click the Use button to accept the current selection. Appendix C provides a complete reference of available pictograms.

Select a Pictogram

The edit window will now display the selected pictogram. To preview the updated sign, click on the  Preview Sign button. Now the sign includes the selected header, pictogram and message. All elements are sized and positioned to best accommodate the available space.

Add Sign Pictogram

Your first sign is now ready for use. All you have to do is print it out.

4. Sign Background Color – Displays the Color window where a sign background color can be selected.
5. Fit Sign to Page – Resets current sign width and height to the maximum size possible based on the current printer paper size.
6. Sign Width and Height – Allows for setting custom width and height. Values larger than the maximum width or height supported by the current printer setting will not be accepted.
7. Units – Toggles width and height units between inches and millimeters.

At startup, Sign Builder DE assigns an initial size to the sign based on the default printer and its default paper settings. The user can change those settings by using the  Print Setup button. In most cases, a printer will be set to print to a standard Letter (8.5 x 11 inches) sized sheet in the portrait orientation. The maximum possible sign size for that sheet will then be calculated and shown, leaving the required margin required by the printer on all four sides of the page.

The sign can always be set to the maximum dimension allotted by the current printer settings using the  Fit Sign to Page button. The size of the printed sign can also be changed manually in the Width and Height fields. Note that any entry in these fields must not be greater than the allowed maximum dimension.

4.2 Message

The Message area is used to edit the sign message and its associated properties. Message area elements are as follows:

Message Area

1. Message Font – Displays the Font window where fonts and font properties can be selected. Font properties can be bold, italic, color, strikeout and underline.
2. Message Background Color – Displays the Color window where a message background color can be selected.
3. Align Message Left – Aligns the message left.
4. Center Message – Centers the message.
5. Align Message Right – Aligns the message right.

6. Message Font Format And Color - Displays the message font, style, color and alignment as selected.
7. Sign Message – Input area where the message content can be edited.

Note that selecting font size has no effect on how big the sign message is displayed. Sign Builder DE automatically resizes and word-wraps the message to maximize the use of the available space.

In cases where words should remain on the same line, an underscore character “_” can be used to indicate a non-breaking space. The effect of non-breaking space is illustrated in the examples below.

Message Without Non-Breaking Space

Message With Non-Breaking Space

The  Message Background Color button allows selection of background color for only the message area of the sign while leaving all remaining sign components with default white background or as selected by the  Sign Background Color button found in the Layout area.

The  Message Background Color button in combination with the  Message Font button make it possible to produce many ANSI and ISO compliant signs that require a colored message area.

Examples of Signs Using a Colored Message Area

4.3 Header

Sign Builder DE includes a number of ANSI, ISO, OSHA and other general-purpose headers (also known as signal words). The Header area is used to select an appropriate header for inclusion on your sign. Elements of the Header area are as follows:

Header Area

1. Header Category – Provides a list of header category options. Selecting a category limits the number of headers to that category. Categories are ALL, OSHA, ANSI, ISO, ENGLISH, SPANISH and FRENCH. For example, if the ANSI category is selected, only ANSI headers will be listed.
2. Select Sign Header – Provides a list of available sign headers.
3. Sign Header – Displays a preview of the selected header.

A complete catalog of available headers is provided in Appendix B.

4.4 Pictogram

In order to provide visual clues associated with the message, a sign may include a pictogram or a symbol. Sign Builder DE allows up to two pictograms to be included on a single sign. Depending on the orientation of a sign, landscape vs. portrait, the pictograms can be positioned left and/or right or above and/or below of the sign message. Below are various examples of pictogram positioning using one or two pictograms per sign.

Examples of Pictogram Positioning

Explanation of each Pictogram area element is as follows:

Pictogram Area

2. Import Left/Top Pictogram – Displays the Open window where an external pictogram image from your personal files can be imported for inclusion to the left or above the sign message.
3. Clear Left/Top Pictogram – Clears the left/top pictogram preview.
4. Left/Top Pictogram – Displays a preview of the left/top pictogram.
5. Select Right/Bottom Pictogram From Library – Displays the Pictogram Library Browser window where a pictogram can be selected from the pictogram library for inclusion to the right or below the sign message.

6. Import Right/Bottom Pictogram – Displays the Open window where an external pictogram image from your personal files can be imported for inclusion to the right or below the sign message.
7. Clear Right/Bottom Pictogram – Clears the right/bottom pictogram preview.
8. Right/Bottom Pictogram – Displays a preview of the right/bottom pictogram.

The Sign Builder DE library contains in excess of 6000 scaleable vector pictograms. A complete catalog is provided in Appendix C. Pictograms contained in the library can be selected using the Pictogram Library Browser window. The elements of the Pictogram Library Browser windows are as follows:

1. Libraries – Lists all available pictogram library titles.
2. Pictograms – Lists all pictograms contained within the currently selected library title.
3. Pictogram Preview – Displays the currently selected pictogram.
4. Use – Imports the currently selected pictogram for use.
5. Cancel – Exits the Pictogram Library Browser.

Pictogram Library Browser Window

Although it is an extensive resource, the pictogram library may not always provide suitable content for unique or obscure situations. To accommodate such cases, Sign Builder DE can also import user-supplied external images or pictograms. Supported file formats are as follows:

- WMF – Windows Metafile
- EMF – Extended (Enhanced) Windows Metafile
- BMP – Windows OS/2 Bitmap
- DIB – Device-Independent Bitmap
- JPG – JPEG/JFIF Image
- GIF – Graphic Interchange Format

4.5 Preview

The preview area displays an approximate representation of the final sign, as it will appear when printed. To display the Preview pane from the main edit window, use the  Preview Sign button. With the Preview pane displayed, you'll notice that the  Preview Sign button in the layout area is now replaced with the  Edit Sign button. Elements of the preview area are as follows:

Preview Area

1. Adjust Message/Pictogram Ratio – Adjusts the size of the sign message and pictograms differentially.
2. Preview Pane – Displays an approximate representation of the final sign.

Moving the Adjust Message/Pictogram Ratio slider up increases the size of the pictograms while decreasing the size of the message. Respectively, moving the Adjust Message/Pictogram Ratio slider down decreases the size of the pictograms while increasing the size of the message. An example is shown below:

5 Creating Compliant Industrial Safety Signs

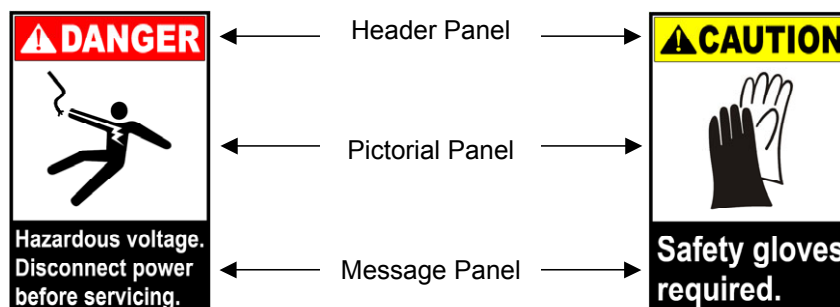

Signs developed to be in compliance with one of the applicable safety standards need to follow guidelines established for that specific standard. General guidelines for each applicable standard are outlined within this manual. Standards and Regulations covering industrial safety signage can be acquired from the following:

- ANSI (American National Standards Institute – www.ansi.org)
- ISO (International Organization for Standardization – www.iso.org)
- OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Administration – www.osha.gov)

5.1 ANSI Z535.4-2002 Compliant Safety Signs

ANSI Z535.2-2002 specifies the current standard for safety signs. A variance from the older 1998 standard, ANSI Z535.2-2002 signs are made up of three distinct panels or areas within the sign. Understanding all the conditions and likelihood of injuries should be the first consideration when creating a safety sign.

The first panel is the header panel that contains the Signal Words DANGER, WARNING, CAUTION or NOTICE. When using these symbol words or headers (exception Notice), the safety alert symbol ▲ should be used in conjunction with the signal word. Examples built using Sign Builder DE are shown below.

Typical ANSI Compliant Signs

5.1.1 ANSI Style Header Panel

The following are standard headers identified by ANSI Z535.2-2002.

DANGER: Indicates an imminently hazardous situation that, if not avoided, will result in death or serious injury. Safety Signs identified by the signal word DANGER should be used sparingly and only for situations presenting the most serious hazards.

WARNING: Indicates a potentially hazardous situation that, if not avoided, will result in death or serious injury. Hazards identified by the signal word WARNING present a lesser degree of risk of injury or death than those identified by the signal word DANGER.

CAUTION: Indicates a potentially hazardous situation that, if not avoided, may result in minor or moderate injury. It may also be used to alert against unsafe practices associated with events that could lead to personal injury.

NOTICE: Indicates a statement of company policy directly or indirectly related to the safety of personnel or protection of property. This signal word should not be associated directly with hazard or hazardous situations and shall not be used in place of danger, warning or caution.

5.1.2 ANSI Style Pictorial Panel

The second panel is the pictorial panel that contains a symbol appropriate to the hazardous information you are trying to convey. There are two different classifications of pictorials:

Hazard Alerting Pictorials – a picture (as shown below) that shows what the hazard is and what the consequences are if the worker fails to follow the instructions.

Hazard Avoidance Pictorials – a picture (as shown below) that illustrates the action to be taken to avoid the hazard.

5.1.3 ANSI Style Message Panel

ANSI recommends a combination of UPPERCASE and lowercase sans serif text when writing messages in the sign.

Uppercase text should be used to call to action, a consequence statement, emergency information or to describe the hazard that is present.

Lowercase text should be used to give instructions about how to avoid the hazard, to outline the consequences more in detail, to explain the action statement or outline safety measures to be taken.

5.2 ISO 3864-2-2004 Compliant Safety Signs

Along with the ability to create ANSI style signs, Sign Builder DE offers the ability to create ISO style signs. ISO 3864 builds on the system of hazard communication in identifying the severity level of the hazard and supplementary safety information in word or symbolic form that aids in the communication of safety information across language barriers. Safety signs that include text can be used when some of the necessary safety information cannot be communicated in symbolic form, when the combination of safety sign with text is judged to be more effective or when legal requirements in countries mandate the use of text to communicate safety information.

Typical ISO Compliant Signs

5.2.1 ISO Style Header Panel

Similar to ANSI headers, ISO headers or the “hazard severity panel” includes a general warning symbol. In contrast to the ANSI general warning symbol, ISO shows a yellow background with a black explanation mark .

The following are standard ISO headers.

DANGER indicates a hazard with a high level of risk that, if not avoided, will result in death or serious injury.

WARNING indicates a hazard with a medium level of risk that, if not avoided, could result in death or serious injury.

CAUTION indicates a hazard with a low level of risk that, if not avoided, could result in minor or moderate injury.

5.2.2 ISO Style Pictorial Panel

ISO compliant pictograms use shape and color to communicate. Geometric surround shapes and their respective meanings are listed below:

WARNING - A black graphical symbol inside a yellow triangle with a black triangular band defines a safety sign that indicates a hazard.

PROHIBITION - A black graphical symbol inside a red circular band with a red diagonal bar defines a safety sign that indicates that an action shall not be taken or shall be stopped.

MANDATORY - A white graphical symbol inside a blue circle defines a safety sign that indicates that an action shall be taken to avoid a hazard.

5.2.3 ISO Style Message Panel

ISO message panel recommendations are very similar to ANSI. One exception worth noting is that it is acceptable to emphasize the message by using color as follows:

- WARNING – Black text on Yellow background
- PROHIBITION – White text on Red background
- MANDATORY – White text on Blue background

5.3 OSHA 1910.145 Compliant Safety Signs

This specification applies to the design, application and use of signs or symbols intended to indicate and, insofar as possible, to define specific hazards of a nature such that failure to designate them may lead to accidental injury to workers or the public, or both, or to property damage. This specification is intended to cover all safety signs except those designed for streets, highways, railroads, and marine regulations. Typical examples of OSHA 1910.145 compliant signs built using Sign Builder DE are shown below.

OSHA style sign using Danger header with hazard symbol on the right side of sign.

OSHA style sign using Caution header with hazard symbol on the left side of sign.

OSHA style sign using Warning header with hazard symbol on the right side of sign

OSHA style sign using Safety First header with hazard symbol on the right side of sign.

Typical OSHA Compliant Signs

5.3.1 OSHA Style Header Panel

The header definitions seem very similar between ANSI, ISO and OSHA yet, to some, contain important differences regarding the probability of serious death or injury. The OSHA header definitions are as follows:

DANGER shall be used in major hazard situations where an immediate hazard presents a threat of death or serious injury to employees. Danger tags shall be used only in these situations.

WARNING may be used to represent a hazard level between "Caution" and "Danger,".

CAUTION shall be used in minor hazard situations where a non-immediate or potential hazard or unsafe practice presents a lesser threat of employee injury.

5.3.2 OSHA Style Pictorial Panel

OSHA compliant safety signs may contain a pictogram alongside the sign message. Generally, it is acceptable to use ANSI or ISO compliant pictograms in OSHA compliant signs.

5.3.3 OSHA Style Message Panel

OSHA compliant signs use centered, all caps message text.

5.4 Use of Color

When creating safety signs there are five basic colors that are commonly used, usually in conjunction with signal words or hazard classification.

RED is used to identify hazards that are immediate and have the potential for serious injury or death. Red is commonly used with Danger, Fire or Stop situations. This is usually used to label flammable liquids, emergency switches and fire issues.

ORANGE is used to identify hazards that are serious but not necessarily immediate. It warns the reader to be careful because there is the potential for serious injury or even death. Examples would include pinch points, machinery and moving parts. Orange is most commonly used with the signal word Warning.

YELLOW is used to identify hazards that might result in injury that, while not necessarily life threatening, could still be somewhat serious. Slips, trips and falls would fall into this category as would certain storage cabinets (corrosives, flammables, etc...). Caution is most commonly used with the color yellow.

GREEN identifies safety and is usually used to identify safety material like MSDS sheets, first aid and medical. There is no immediate danger present. It is typically associated with the word "Safety" or "Think".

BLUE is most often used with signs requiring use of personal protective equipment, safety regulations and procedures. Blue is most commonly used with the signal word "Notice".

5.5 Safety Symbols and Pictograms

The use of descriptive safety symbols and pictograms is an important part of industrial safety communication. Sign Builder DE provides an extensive library of ANSI, ISO and OSHA symbols. In addition, included are shipping & handling, egress & assembly, housekeeping & recycling, DOT Identification, lockout/tagout, medical, industrial and a host of other general purpose symbols. For a complete catalog of available Sign Builder DE Symbols, see Appendix C

5.6 Safety Sign Message Viewing Distance

Determining the safe viewing distance of a sign depends upon many factors, including lighting, background, letter type and visual acuity. The ANSI Z535-2002 standard uses a ratio of 25 feet of viewing distance per inch of text (character height) for favorable reading conditions and a ratio of 12 feet of viewing distance per inch for unfavorable reading conditions. Other factors to consider in determining signage size, include: the complexity of the message, an individual's reaction time necessary and the angle the sign will be seen from. In many situations it is better to use multiple smaller signs that are strategically positioned instead of one large sign. Many times letter size may need to be larger for a variety of reasons:

- To make the label more noticeable from other information displayed in the area
- To enable legibility under low light, or other poor viewing conditions
- To alert personnel sooner than the minimum safe viewing distance
- To convey special importance for portions of the message
- To improve legibility for persons who have vision problems with small text

6 Creating General Purpose Signs

Sign Builder DE can be used to build a variety of signs for general or recreational purposes where adhering to a regulation or a standard is not necessary. Coupled with the ability to import custom user-supplied images, signs for various occasions are simple to create and limited only by your imagination. Some examples of such signs are shown below.

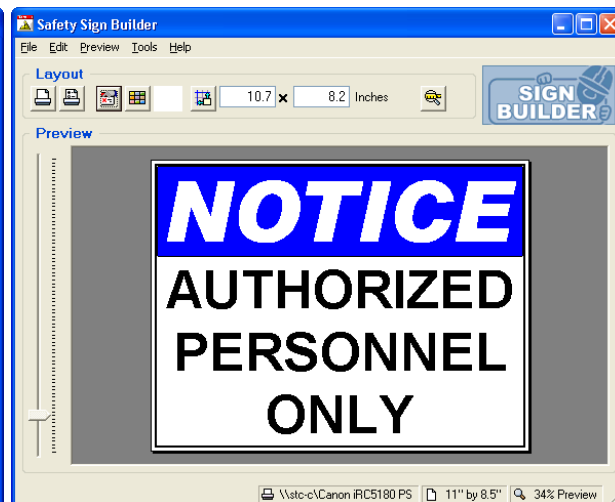

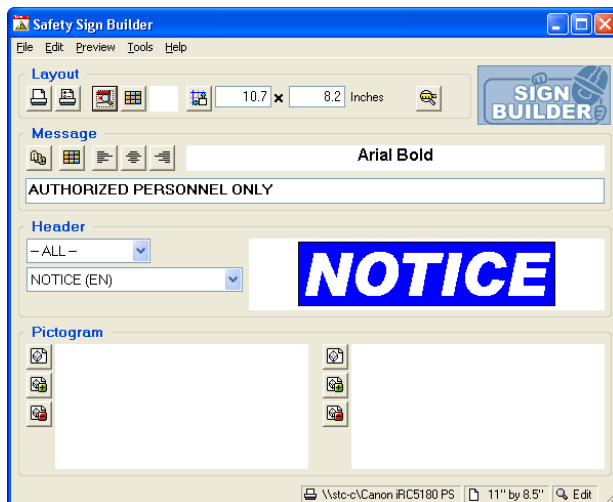

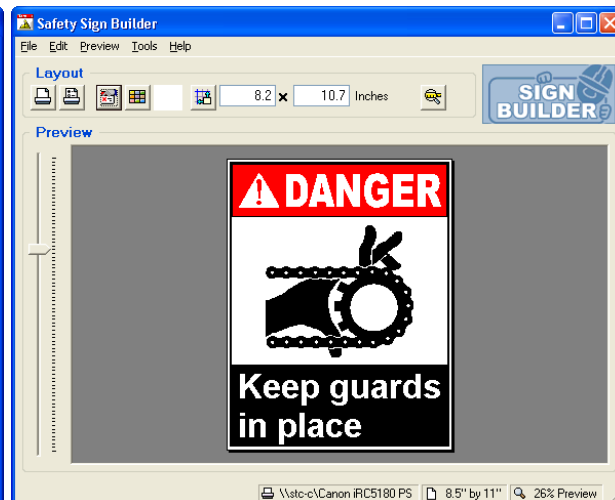

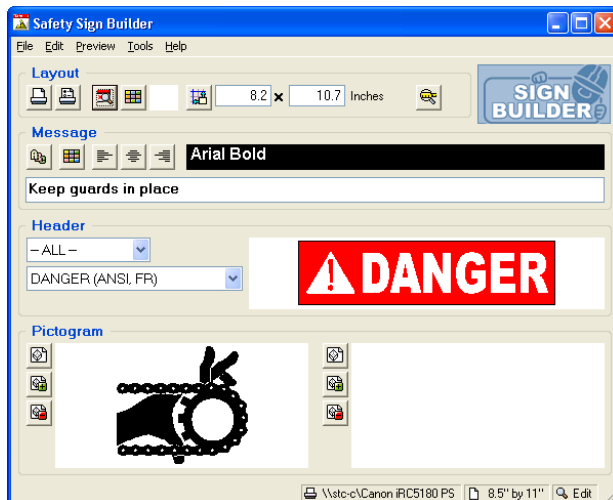

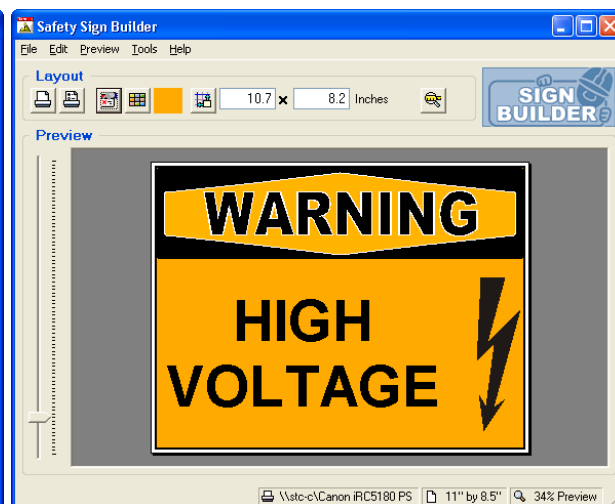

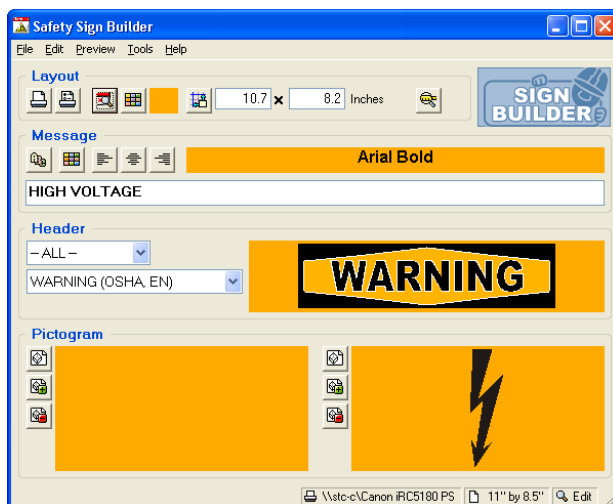

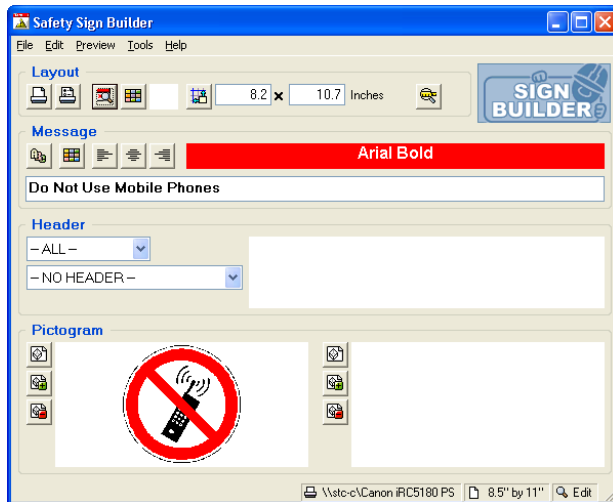

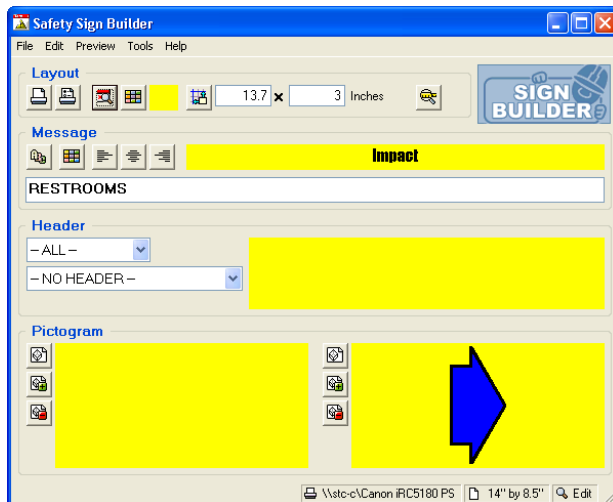

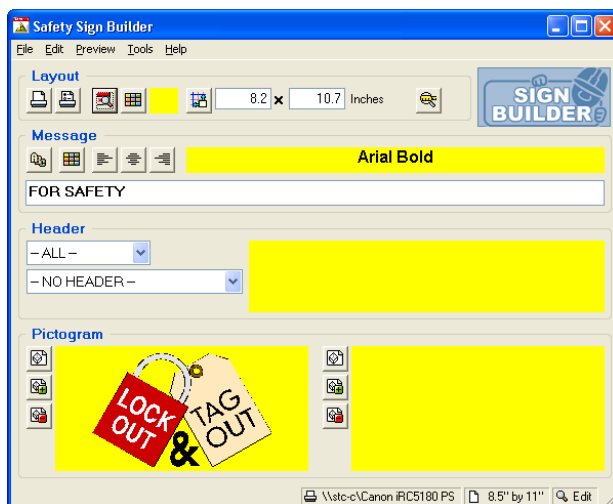

Examples of General Purpose Signs

Appendix A: Sign Examples

After a brief exposure to Sign Builder DE you'll notice that the interface is very intuitive and the overall behavior of the tool is very predictable. We'd encourage you to experiment with various combinations in order to become comfortable with the relationship of the interface elements and the components of a sign as presented by the preview. Below provided are a number of practical examples illustrating the capabilities of Sign Builder DE. To build the signs shown in the examples, simply replicate the state of the Layout, Message, Header and Pictogram areas as illustrated in the example screens.

Appendix B: Header Reference

The following is an illustrated reference of all headers (signal words) made available by Sign Builder DE. Updated libraries containing additional headers may be available. Check the Sign Builder DE website (http://www.stclair.com/sign\_builder/) for availability.
